ANNOUNCEMENTS For Congress

We are authorized to announce
HON. DAVID H. KINCHELOE, of Hopkins county, as a candidate for Congress from the Second district, subject to action of the democratic primary August, 1914.

We are authorized to announce
HON. J. W. HENSON
as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress for the Second Congressional District, subject to the action of the primary to be held in August, 1914.

The Senate now expects to reach a vote on the bill by Saturday.

Senator A. B. Cummins, of Iowa, has again been re-nominated by the Republicans.

If Carranza will agree to an armistice and will agree to discuss the entire subject of pacification, the mediators may admit his representative. A reply is waited before they give a decision.

Blue Grass Park, Fayette county, midway between Lexington and Versailles has been selected as the instruction camp for the Kentucky National Guard, by Acting Adjutant General J. Tandy Ellis. The entire brigade will camp there with a company of the Twenty-ninth infantry from July 1 to July 10.

The Mexican rebels are now anxious to get into the mediation proceedings and are showing much irritation at the prospect of being sent out by the mediators, in spite of the insistent demand of the American representatives. The desire to finish their work without delay is probably the reason they do not want to reopen the whole question.

Capt. E. L. D. Breckinridge, U. S. A., inspector instructor detailed by the War Department with the Kentucky National Guard, is seriously ill and has been taken to a sanitarium at Asheville, N. C. Capt. Breckinridge received a gunshot wound in the Philippines and last winter was operated on to relieve complications resulting from the wound in his side.

Settlement of the Colorado coal strike apparently is no nearer realization now than it was weeks ago, according to statements by both union officials and mine operators today. Sixty-six persons are known to have been killed and forty-eight wounded in the numerous battles and disorders since the miners went on strike September 23, 1913. Classified, eighteen strikers, ten mine guards, nineteen mine employees, two militiamen, three noncombatants, two women and twelve children lost their lives. Twenty had been killed prior to April 20, the date of the battle of Ludlow. Forty-six were killed during that fight and the next ten days, when federal troops stopped the warfare.

The cost of the eight months industrial conflict is variously estimated at from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. The figures include $700,000 the state spent in maintaining state troops in the field until the arrival of the federal forces; and estimated cost of $2,925,000 to the union, and a loss of "several millions" claimed by operators. At present 1,717 United States troops are guarding the mining properties.

The original demands of the United Mine Workers of America may be summarized as follows:
Recognition of the union.
A ten per cent advance in wages.
An eight-hour day.
Pay for "narrow and dead work."
Check weighmen.
The right to trade where desired.
Enforcement of state mining laws and abolishment of the guard system.

Old Lady's Sage Advice.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. Mamie Towe, of 102 W. Main Street, this city, says, "If you had seen me, before I began to take Cardui, you would not think I was the same person. Six doctors failed to do me any good, and my friends thought I would die. I could hardly get out of bed or walk a step. At last an old lady advised me to take Cardui, and now I can go most anywhere." All ailing women need Cardui, as a gentle, refreshing tonic, especially adapted to their peculiar ailments. It is a reliable, vegetable remedy, successfully used for 50 years. You ought to try it. Health Hint.

"Cave canem" was the warning near each ancient Roman door. Which in free and easy English meant: "Beware the dog"—no more.

So jink it from the Romans as the hotter months draw near—"Cave canem" "Ware the wuff-wuffs," and no mad dog need you fear.—Record Herald.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Three Dead Heroes.

There are still heroes in every day life. Seven young people were in a sinking boat on the Delaware river, that sprang a leak and three of them deliberately sprang overboard, although they could not swim, to give the rest, two of them girls, a better chance to reach shore and their lives were saved by a scratch. John Mouchet, John Murphey and Raymond Tinney, were the heroes who gave their lives.

A BOY FARMER

Who Is Making The Graybeards Sit Up and Take Notice.

One of the finest fields of wheat in Christian county is that of Andrew Quarles, a bog farmer only 17 years of age, on the Nashville pike. When his father, the late F. M. Quarles, was stricken with a fatal illness two or three years ago, Andrew was left as the male head of the family and during his father's illness represented him as best he could. When Mr. Quarles died, Andrew continued the farming operations and has the satisfaction of seeing his efforts become fruitful of results. The field of wheat referred to is so much better than others in the vicinity that several farmers have told the Kentuckian about it. They all say, "I have a fine wheat prospect, but the best field of wheat I have seen is on the Quarles farm." Young Quarles is still in school, but every moment of time he finds out of school is devoted to farming. He reads farm papers, confers with neighbor farmers and uses his own judgment to good purpose. He is said to be in love with the farm and is determined to make farming his life work.

"Blind Tiger" Liquor Poured Upon Ground.

Cadiz, Ky.—"Goodbye, Old Booze" was the general expression upon the faces of quite a crowd of Cadiz and Trigg county citizens as they gathered upon the bluff just back of the business section of Cadiz to witness the "breaking up" of a large supply of "blind-tiger booze," which had been accumulating here in the Trigg Circuit Court for the last year. This very unusual procedure was by order of the court and under the direct supervision of Circuit Judge Hanbery. The breaking was done by Sheriff H. P. Atwood and City Marshal Tom McBride, and consisted of nine quarts, 133 pints and fifty-six half-pints of whisky, and two cases of beer, and also twenty pints and thirty-four half-pints of whiskey which City Marshal McBride captured some time ago from a negro, who had the whisky in a sack, but dropped it and ran when the Marshal started after him. This was the first procedure of this kind ever witnessed in Cadiz, and created a good deal of interest. A few of the "thirsty ones" looked on with a longing gaze and a disappointed appetite as the "booze" ran off in a stream down the bluff.

The last two terms of court have just about put the "tigers" out of business in this county, several of the leaders now being in jail sentences.

Unfairness to Men.

Men never get a fair deal. If, for instance, a baby happens to have a good disposition, everyone will insist that it takes after its mother.—Atchison Globe.

The Case of Yontsey.

The movement set on foot by Mrs. Kate Brown, of Frankfort, which looks to the pardon of Henry E. Yontsey, would seem to be founded upon principles of justice, humanity and public policy. Yontsey was an obscure stenographer when he got into trouble. He was drawn into it by environment and circumstance. Previous to his connection with the conspiracy which occasioned his conviction he was a young man of unblemished moral character.

He has served thirteen years in the Frankfort prison, which is twice as long as the average life prisoner. During these years, in addition to his daily labors in the prison, he has given his evenings as a teacher in the night schools of the penitentiary, as well as his leisure time on Sundays, doing all within his power for the improvement of his fellows. Three times he has been taken out of prison on orders of court and used as a witness for the Commonwealth. It is contended that the Commonwealth is thus in some sort committed to giving him consideration.

His application has been indorsed by the Confederate Veterans at Pewee Valley, the great majority of the Senators and Representatives in at least two Legislatures, and lately seconded by the delegates of the State Christian Endeavor convention which met this year at Frankfort.

Certainly it would seem that he has been punished enough. The men mainly guilty are all at large. One of them, convicted by three separate juries, sits in the Congress of the United States. It would seem that to leave this poor wretch further in prison is to defeat, not to serve the ends of justice, and the Courier-Journal joins Mrs. Kate Brown in her timely and Christian application to the Governor for clemency already too long delayed.—Courier-Journal.

They Choose To Chew.

The American girl is a gum chewer. Her chewing gum cost her $46,000,000 last year. She is making giant strides in her endeavor to waste money with as great speed as a man, but she is still far behind. The men of the United States spend $1,000,000,000 a year for intoxicating liquors and $200,000,000 for tobacco.—Mayfield Messenger.
